How will I be notified a solicitation is open?

- Registered users will receive email notification when a solicitation is open for consideration that contains a product associated with their labeler code. If a manufacturer does not have a product contained in a current solicitation no email notification will be received.

How often do solicitations occur?

- Solicitation frequency is dependent upon state specific procedures and requirements. Below is information for the current frequency of state solicitations:
 - Colorado – Quarterly (prior to scheduled P&T meetings)

How long will solicitations be open for bidding?

- Offer solicitations are open for bidding and consideration for a pre-determined amount of time (e.g. three to four (3-4) weeks) that is set by both the MedImpact and State teams. This time frame is designed to allow manufacturers enough time to submit competitive offers while also supporting pre-P&T meeting operational timelines. State specific offer submission deadlines will be included in notifications and materials distributed with individual solicitations.

When will I be notified of a decision on my submitted offer?
